Please send Emily Picillo (epicillo@circulationjournal.org) a brief e-mail saying that you approve including Anne Sales as a co-author in our perspective piece.

She needs this today in order to include the paper in the next issue of Circ: CVQO.

Thanks!
Geoff

Hi Geoff,

I actually have not yet heard from any of the authors.

Best,
Emily

Emily,

I forwarded the request to both co-authors immediately. Who are you still waiting to hear back from and I'll circle back with them.

Thanks!
Geoff

Dear Dr. Barnes,

I wanted to ensure you received our acceptance letter last week. Can you kindly provide the item requested for publication by Monday, February 8? This will ensure we can publish your article in the next issue of the journal.

Best,

RE: CIRCCQO/2015/002366R1
Reimagining Anticoagulation Clinics in the Era of Direct Oral Anticoagulants

Dear Dr. Barnes,

Thank you for returning your revised manuscript promptly. We are pleased to inform you that it is now acceptable for publication in Circulation: Cardiovascular Quality and Outcomes.

Pending receipt of all items required for publication, we plan to publish this paper as soon as possible.

1. Author additions: Per journal policy, the addition of any authors must be approved by all original authors. Since an author (Anne Sales) has been added to the manuscript, statements from all other authors, attesting to their agreement to the addition, must be provided. These statements can be emailed to epicillo@circulationjournal.org.

Please note that the journal, in coordination with the American Heart Association's News Media office, provides the media will access to your manuscript in advance of the article's initial online publication ahead of the issue for which it is scheduled. We are alerting you to this in the event that you receive inquiries from the media.

During the copyediting phase, there may be some changes in phrasing, but there will be no alteration of scientific content. When you receive your galley proofs, please read, correct, and return them immediately to avoid delay in publication. Please note that it is your responsibility to make yourself available to review the proofs whenever they arrive, and if you are not available, publication of your manuscript will be delayed.

Lastly, please note the journal's publication fees: fee per page: $70; supplemental fee for exceeding the word limit: $425 per every 1,000 words over.

We are very pleased to have the opportunity to publish this interesting work. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Jackevicius, BScPhm, PharmD, MSc
