The Data Availability section has been added to clarify the conditions for access of non-publicly available datasets. The Data Availability section now reads:

“The datasets and products generated for this study are not publicly available due to caveats with the data and coordination among data users, but are available from the corresponding author upon reasonable request. Any data or products shared from this project will entail completing a data sharing agreement (i.e., explaining how the data would be used, defining the spatial extent of interest, confirming data will not be used for other purposes, etc.). Email the corresponding author, Jesse Lewis at jslewis.research@gmail.com for more details.”
