After thirty-six years of biennial updates, the authors take great pride in being able to publish the nineteenth version (2001) of the "Brandon/Hill Selected List of Print Books and Journals for the Small Medical Library." This list of 630 books and 143 journals is intended as a selection guide for health sciences libraries or similar facilities. It can also function as a core collection for a library consortium. Books and journals are categorized by subject; the book list is followed by an author/editor index, and the subject list of journals, by an alphabetical title listing. Due to continuing requests from librarians, a "minimal core list" consisting of 81 titles has been pulled out from the 217 asterisked (*) initial-purchase books and marked with daggers (†*) before the asterisks. To purchase the entire collection of 630 books and to pay for 143 2001 journal subscriptions would require $124,000. The cost of only the asterisked items, books and journals, totals $55,000. The "minimal core list" book collection costs approximately $14,300.

Alfred N. Brandon began the "selected book and journal list" idea back in 1965 to assist hospital librarians with acquiring quality medical literature [1]. Now thirty-six years later, we are presenting the nineteenth revised version of the "Brandon/Hill Selected List of Print Books and Journals for the Small Medical Library." The first list (1965) contained 358 books and 123 journals; the 2001 version has 630 books and 143 journals. After thirty-six years and nineteen lists, is there really much left to say? In fact, the project seems to speak for itself, so the authors will not recount in detail the history and purpose of the "list." But if you are interested, bibliographic data is available at the bottom of the first page of this paper. So, we shall dispense with our traditional philosophizing and point out several changes that have occurred since the 1999 version was published.

By now, you are probably aware that this list has a new name, "Brandon/Hill Selected List of Print Books and Journals for the Small Medical Library." We felt the word "print" would allow anyone who is looking for electronic media to look elsewhere, for this publication is restricted to print books and journals.

Henry Stickell and Dorothy Hill have coauthored the 2001 update of the "Brandon/Hill Selected List of Print Books and Journals for the Small Medical Library." Henry Stickell has worked as an assistant on five previous selected lists—small medical library 1, nursing 2, and allied health 2.

We have considered input—pro and con—from health sciences librarians, editors, clinicians, subject specialists, and vendors. However, the final choice of publications is ours—based upon our opinion. While selecting the books for the 2001 version, 47% (294) book titles that were on the 1999 list were removed. From the beginning, the Brandon/Hill selected lists have always been based on the opinion of the compilers. There is no model or scientific method employed. Journal titles remain relatively stable.

ganizations (JCAHO) designated the Brandon/Hill selected list as a knowledgebase to consult for up-to-date authoritative resources. JCAHO does not require hospitals to have libraries, just information! The Brandon/Hill list no longer appears in the current JCAHO Comprehensive Manual for Hospitals (CAMH) (Standard IM.I.2) [2]. However, JCAHO believes that effective information management applies to all methods whether paper-based or electronic.

"A Library for Internists" published by the American College of Physicians ceased with the ninth edition, 1997. It, too, had been noted by JCAHO as a knowledge-based resource. "A Library for Internists" began publication in 1973 and had been updated every three years [3].

A Core Collection of Medical Books and Journals has been published as a British and international alternative to the Brandon/Hill selected list. The third edition was published in 1997; it is scheduled to be updated every two years. Coverage of the British list is primarily clinical. The last one we know about is dated 1997 [4].

Approximately $124,000 would be needed to purchase all of the 630 books and 143 journals (2001 subscriptions) on this list—$77,300 for books and $46,700 for 2001 subscriptions. Items suggested for first purchase, 214 books and 60 journals, are designated with asterisks (*), because health sciences librarians usually cannot afford or may not need all of or most of the listed publications. The cost of the asterisked items is approximately $55,000, $33,200 for the books and $21,800 for 2001 journal subscriptions.

In response to numerous requests from health sciences librarians, we have chosen from the book list, those titles which could be considered for a "minimal core list." These 81 titles have been marked with daggers (†) before the asterisks; the total amount for these books is approximately $14,300. The minimal core list consists of books for librarians who can only choose a few titles from each category.

Book price totals are based on the one-volume price in instances when books have been published in either one or the more expensive two-volume sets and on "nonmember" prices when indicated for association publications. If a book is published in both hard cover and paperback, the hard cover price has been used. Journal subscriptions are quoted at the print institutional rate.

The increases in book and journal prices for titles in this list and its previous versions are shown in Table 1. From 1965 to 2001, there has been an increase of 718% ($15.00 to $122.76) in the average price per book title. During the same thirty-six year period, the average subscription has increased 2,251% ($13.90 to $312.85).

The figures stated here apply only to publications that appear in this list or have appeared over the years in its predecessors. The "per-title" calculation includes the cost of all volumes in a multivolume set. The average volume price for the 699 books that make up the 630 title book collection is $110.64, $12.12 less than the per-title average. In instances where a title appears in either one or two volumes, it has been considered as one volume in the physical volume count. Titles do vary from list to list, but the cost figures are representative of those being incurred by health sciences libraries in acquiring current print health sciences literature.

The majority of the publications are clinical in content, although we have included clinically relevant basic science books. We have omitted basic sciences journals, because most health sciences libraries cannot justify the extremely high subscription costs for low-use material; the Web, fax machine, or document delivery service can make the contents of these journals readily accessible. If basic science journals are required, they should be purchased on a resource-sharing basis with other libraries. The journal list is not intended to support research activities. We have attempted to assemble a well-balanced current collection of authoritative English-language books and journals, primarily in the clinical sciences. Most, but not all, of the publications originated in the United States. When two books appear to be of comparable content and authorship, we have purposely chosen the most recent one.

In the 2001 book list, 89% of the titles have been published in 1998 or later; 292 books cost $100.00 each or more. Because current books have been emphasized, some standard works that have not been revised for several years have been dropped from this list. We are aware that "newer" is not necessarily "better," but current books have been given priority. We have not been able to review every English-language biomedical book and journal published during the past two years. Therefore, exclusion of a publication from this list in no way implies that it is not high quality. We simply may not have seen the item in question. If at all possible, we have tried to include less expensive alternatives along with the expensive books, but in many subject areas inexpensive quality books no longer exist. However, we have included 164 books that have list prices of $50.00 or less. Price information has been supplied by publishers and vendors and is as accurate as we could obtain at the time of publication. Price increases are to be expected.

This list is, as the title implies, limited to print media—books and journals. Health sciences librarians who need to purchase audiovisuals or microcomputer software, but lack knowledge of such media, should request assistance from other librarians who have initiated successful media programs or from academic media centers. We have not perused the electronic books and journals available on the Web or CD-ROM, and we do not intend to do so at this time.

Book titles in this list are divided into fifty-nine subject categories and the journals into forty six. No new subject categories have been added during the interim two-year period.

If a book has more than two authors or editors, the notation "[and others]" is made after the name of the senior author or editor. In the index of authors and editors, we have included only the senior persons; co-authors and coeditors do not appear. If the name of the original author or editor is an integral part of the book title, that name appears in the index.

Because of mergers, takeovers, and the changing of publishers' names, the imprint on a book may not necessarily be indicative of the publisher who is presently distributing the book. We have tried to cite the books by using the names of the publishers who are currently distributing them. It is difficult to keep track of who is publishing what. As a matter of course, we routinely indicate the publisher from whom a book can be obtained in the United States if it is not of U.S. origin. The book list shows the current publisher that owns the title. Persons needing information related to nursing or allied health should consult the other two Brandon/Hill lists that deal specifically with nursing or allied health; both were published in 2000 [5, 6]. This list, as well as those for nursing and allied health, will be updated quarterly between the published biennial revisions in A Major Report, a quarterly newsletter originated by Alfred Brandon and continued by Majors Scientific Books [7].

After thirty-six years, we are pleased to publish the nineteenth version of the "Brandon/Hill Selected List of Print Books and Journals for the Small Medical Library." We have attempted to provide a useful, balanced selection of the current biomedical print literature that we have examined during the past two years. We find it most interesting that the list shows up on the high-tech Web in numerous places and in numerous parts and pieces. We are likewise amazed at the longevity of this project and wonder how much longer it will continue on.
