

Retraction

The Editor and Publisher of Family Practice have retracted the following article:

Heisler, M. 'Different models to mobilize peer support to improve diabetes self-management and clinical outcomes: evidence, logistics, evaluation considerations and needs for future research'.

Family Practice (2010) 27(suppl 1): i23–i32
(http://fampra.oxfordjournals.org/content/27/suppl_1/i23.abstract)

After investigation, it has been concluded that this paper constitutes a case of redundant publication due to its close similarities with a paper previously published in Diabetes Spectrum (Heisler, M. 'Overview of Peer Support Models to Improve Diabetes Self-Management and Clinical Outcomes').

Diabetes Spectrum (2007) 20(4): 214–221
(<http://spectrum.diabetesjournals.org/content/20/4/214.full>)

We would like to state that this situation was due to an honest error on the part of the author but would like to apologise for any inconvenience this causes to readers of Family Practice.
