Figure 1 that appeared in the article “Antihypertensive Effect of Barnidipine 10 mg or Amlodipine 5 to 10 mg Once Daily in Treatment-Naïve Patients with Essential Hypertension: A 24-Week, Randomized, Open-Label, Pilot Study” by Rossetti et al (Curr Ther Res Exp Clin. 2008;69:192–206), contained errors. The correct figure appears on the following page.

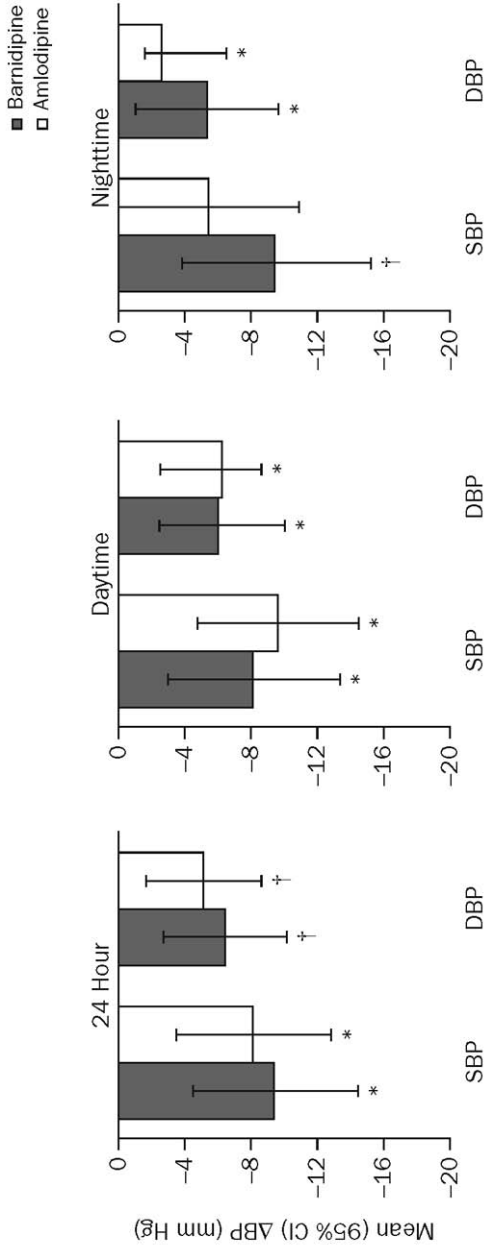

Figure 1. Twenty-four-hour, daytime, and nighttime baseline-adjusted changes (Δ) in systolic (SBP) and diastolic blood pressure (DBP) after 24 weeks in patients with essential hypertension randomized to treatment with barnidipine ($n = 9$) or amlodipine ($n = 10$). * $P < 0.01$ versus baseline; † $P < 0.05$ versus baseline.
