There was an error on page e43. The sentence with the error was “Current estimates indicate that up to 30% of the sequence of the human genome is more closely related to Gorilla than to Chimpanzee due to this process (Sally et al. 2012).”

This is not correct, and should have been

“Current estimates indicate that up to 30% of the sequence of the human genome is no more closely related to Chimpanzee than to Gorilla due to this process (Sally et al. 2012).”
