

On this year's cover

The 2016 cover artist for The Lancet Infectious Diseases is David Kerr, who replaces Justin Gabbard. We thank Justin for his provocative and clever covers throughout 2015. David is from Glasgow, UK; this is also where his studio is based. David has worked as an illustrator since 2006 on magazine editorials, book illustrations, and theatre posters. David also creates his own illustrated stories and comics and participates in many small press festivals and artist residencies. In his free time he enjoys, travelling, hiking and walking in the countryside, and foraging for berries and mushrooms.
