

great pleasure that we have been able to continue our collaboration with European Association for the Study of the Liver (EASL) in form of the ESBRA-SALVE Think tank on alcoholic liver disease to be held in Paris on 11 April 2018. We are also considering other future cooperations, e.g., with Lisboa Addictions.

Finally, I have a personal request to all of you: please inform your colleagues and friends about our society. Convince them to join us. Only with everybody's support shall we become a strong and successful team. Please keep this in mind, attend our meetings regularly and help to improve them. Please do not hesitate to contact me directly if you have any special ideas for the improvement of ESBRA, or any feedback. I am now looking forward seeing you at the upcoming important events for our society: the ESBRA Nordmann Award Meeting 2018 which will take place from 11 to 12 October in Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium and the 17th ESBRA Congress 2019 which will then be held on 21–24 September 2019 in Lille (France).

I wish all of you a Good, Healthy and Successful 2018.

Sebastian Mueller

Heidelberg, 23 December 2017

Alcohol and Alcoholism, 2018, 53(5) 635

doi: 10.1093/alcac/agy017

Advance Access Publication Date: 27 February 2018

Erratum

OXFORD

Erratum

Erratum: Alcohol Content in the 'Hyper-Reality' MTV Show 'Geordie Shore'

Eden Lowe, John Britton, and Jo Cranwell

Alcohol and Alcoholism, 2018;53;337–343, doi: 10.1093/alcac/agx116

The reception, revision, and acceptance dates of manuscript 10.1093/alcac/agx116, Alcohol content in the 'Hyper-Reality' MTV Show 'Geordie Shore' were incorrect in the originally published version of the manuscript.

The correct dates are as follows: Received 25 September 2017; Revised 5 December 2017; Editorial Decision 9 December 2017; Accepted 8 January 2018.

The publisher apologizes for this error.

Here the online version of the paper has been corrected.