In the article “Inhibition of Amyloid- $\beta$  ( $A\beta$ ) Peptide-Binding Alcohol Dehydrogenase- $A\beta$  Interaction Reduces  $A\beta$  Accumulation and Improves Mitochondrial Function in a Mouse Model of Alzheimer’s Disease,” by Jun Yao, Heng Du, Shiqiang Yan, Fang Fang, Chaodong Wang, Lih-Fen Lue, Lan Guo, Doris Chen, David M. Stern, Frank J. Gunn Moore, John Xi Chen, Ottavio Arancio, and Shirley ShiDu Yan, which appeared on pages 2313–2320 of the February 9, 2011 issue, the authors regret that two authors (Nyosha Alikhani and Elzbieta Glaser) were omitted and a hyphen was omitted from one author’s name (Frank J. Gunn-Moore). The author line should have read as follows: Jun Yao, Heng Du, Shiqiang Yan, Fang Fang, Chaodong Wang, Lih-Fen Lue, Lan Guo, Doris Chen, David M. Stern, Frank J. Gunn-Moore, Nyosha Alikhani, Elzbieta Glaser, John Xi Chen, Ottavio Arancio, and Shirley ShiDu Yan. Both Nyosha Alikhani and Elzbieta Glaser are affiliated with the Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics, Stockholm University, SE-106 91 Stockholm, Sweden.

In the article “Wnt5a Is a Transcriptional Target of Dlx Homeogenes and Promotes Differentiation of Interneuron Progenitors In Vitro and In Vivo,” by Sara Paina, Donatella Garzotto, Silvia DeMarchis, Marco Marino, Alessia Moiana, Luciano Conti, Elena Cattaneo, Marzia Perera, Giorgio Corte, Enzo Calautti, and Giorgio R. Merlo, which appeared on pages 2675–2687 of the February 16, 2011 issue, the authors regret that one author’s name appeared incorrectly: “Silvia DeMarchis” should have read “Silvia De Marchis.”
