In the November 2015 issue of HEPATOLOGY, in the article titled “Aspartate Aminotransferase to Platelet Ratio and Fibrosis-4 as Biomarkers in Biopsy-Validated Pediatric Cystic Fibrosis Liver Disease” (volume 62, pages 1576-1583; doi: 10.1002/hep.28016), by Daniel H. Leung, Mahjabeen Khan, Charles G. Minard, Danielle Guffey, Louise E. Ramm, Andrew D. Clouston, Gregory Miller, Peter J. Lewindon, Ross W. Shepherd, and Grant A. Ramm, the text states that FIB-4 had an AUC of 0.91 to predict portal hypertension with a sensitivity of 78% and specificity of 93%. The correct AUC for FIB-4 to predict portal hypertension is 0.76, as reported in Supporting Table 1.

We apologize for this mistake.
