We have been notified after publication of the article [1], that the sentence of the Results part of the Abstract text is mentioned with the mistake. Currently the sentence is: c approximately 4 times higher than CHE (8.0, 95% CI, 7.2– 8.9%). It should, however, read as follows: HFH incidence is approximately 4 times higher than CHE (8.0, 95% CI, 7.2–8.9%). The publisher apologizes to the authors and readers for the error & inconvenience. The original article has been corrected.
