Corrigendum to: Prediction of individualized lifetime benefit from cholesterol lowering, blood pressure lowering, antithrombotic therapy, and smoking cessation in apparently healthy people [Eur Heart J 2020;41:1190–1199]

The article describes the development of a prediction algorithm. The formula of this algorithm, presented in the supplementary material, contains logarithmic transformations. These transformations were erroneously presented as 'log', but should have been written as 'ln'. These errors have been corrected in the supplementary material.
