

Correction to: Day-case pelvic osteotomy for developmental dysplasia of the hip

Dave M. Moore
Gerard A. Sheridan
Paula M. Kelly
David P. Moore
Kevin F. McCarthy

The original version of the Article inadvertently excluded author Dr. Kevin McCarthy, consultant anaesthesiologist and pain specialist, who hypothesized the initiative of commencing a pilot study in carrying out osteotomies for developmental dysplasia of the hip as a day-case procedure and was at the centre of creating and facilitating the concept of day-case surgery along with analgesia protocols for the patients enrolled in this study.
