The original version of our paper contained an error. In Figure 4, the western blot images of JNK for 143B and U2OS in Figure 4C were mistakenly presented in Figure 4D. This error was caused by unintentionally covering the correct images during figure assembly. The correct version of the Figure 4D appears below.

All authors agree to the erratum and confirm that the corrections made in this erratum do not affect the original conclusions. The authors apologize for any inconvenience that the errors may have caused.
