

Data Sharing Statement

Olfson. Living Alone and Drug Overdose Deaths in the US. JAMA Psychiatry. Published April 12, 2023. doi:10.1001/jamapsychiatry.2023.0596

Data

Data available: Yes

Data types: Deidentified participant data

How to access data: <https://www.census.gov/topics/research/mdac.html>

When available: beginning date: 03-01-2022

Supporting Documents

Document types: None

Additional Information

Who can access the data: Researchers whose proposed use of the data has been approved by the US Census Bureau

Types of analyses: To provide an analytical research database to study the effect of demographic and socio-economic differentials on U.S. mortality rates.

Mechanisms of data availability: Research access to the entire MDAC database is arranged through the Principal Investigators of the MDAC sponsoring agencies. Researchers complete and submit a research proposal to the Principal Investigator of an MDAC sponsoring agency.

Any additional restrictions: Only results that have been reviewed and approved by the US Census Bureau's Disclosure Review Board may be provided outside of approved data users.