Additional Information

Explanation for why data not available: EPIC-PCD study data is not deposited at an open access repository. Because of the rarity of the disease although data is pseudonymised, it may include still sensitive information; therefore, participants were not asked to give consent to have their data deposited publicly. Partial datasets for specific analyses including individual patient data and a data dictionary defining each included field will be available from Dr M Goutaki (myrofora.goutaki@ispm.unibe.ch) upon reasonable request.
