

Supplemental Table 1. Swedish national criteria for therapeutic hypothermia in infants born > 36 weeks gestational age. As per Swedish national guidelines, aEEG is not mandatory prior to a decision to initiate treatment with therapeutic hypothermia.

A <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Apgar score ≤ 5 at 10 minutes after birth● Continued need for resuscitation (including mask ventilation) at 10 minutes after birth● pH ≤ 7.0 in cord blood or within 60 minutes after birth (arterial or capillary blood sample)● Base excess ≤ -16 within 60 minutes after birth	If ANY of the A-criteria are fulfilled, the infant's neurology is assessed according to B-criteria.
B Seizures or moderate to severe HIE defined as the combination of <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Altered level of consciousness AND● Hypotonia or opisthotonus AND● Abnormal primitive reflexes	Continuously assessed during the first 60 minutes of life