

Figure S3. T1, T2 and extracellular volume (ECV) mapping in the CMR imaging. Cross-sectional images from basal, mid and apical levels of the left ventricle were derived with and without Gadolinium contrast injection (A, C and E). An off-line analysis with dedicated software was performed and results in bulls-eye configuration for T1 (B), ECV (D) and T2 (F) were formed for each patient.