

Additional file 3 - Figure S1. Dorsal colouration differs between parity modes and correlates with body weight. Viviparous (A) and larger (B) individuals tended to have larger hue values compared to oviparous and smaller individuals.

