

Reviewer Report

Title: Integrating deep mutational scanning and low-throughput mutagenesis data to predict the impact of amino acid variants

Version: Revision 1 Date: 7/21/2023

Reviewer name: Leopold Parts

Reviewer Comments to Author:

I would like to acknowledge Dr. Alistair Dunham for substantial input into into this co-review. Overall, the Authors have addressed all our points, and we trust that the alternative views would not substantially change the results. We perhaps hoped for more engagement with the content and thinking of the right way to do the analyses, rather than assurances that the current versions are not fatally flawed, but do not wish to delay the publication any further.
