

Supplementary Figure 3. Gene expression dispersion between participants with or without adverse effects. The boxplots show the log₂ transformed expression of the genes selected in the network in participants with and without the specific adverse effect. The p-values obtained with the Wilcoxon test are shown in the plots. The significant p-values obtained following Benjamini Hochberg (BH) correction for multiple comparisons are highlighted in bold.