

Data Sharing Statement

Redline. Adenotonsillectomy For Snoring and Mild Sleep Apnea In Children. JAMA. Published December 05, 2023. doi:10.1001/jama.2023.22114

Data

Data available: Yes

Data types: Deidentified participant data, Data dictionary

How to access data: www.sleepdata.org

When available: With publication

Supporting Documents

Document types: Informed consent form

How to access documents: sleepdata.org

When available: With publication

Additional Information

Who can access the data: Researchers whose proposed use of data is approved (a generally "open" process, established by the National Sleep Research Resource)

Types of analyses: research fits under broad goals of understanding sleep health and treatments to improve sleep and health in children

Mechanisms of data availability: with on-line approval of a Data Use Agreement