Anxiety-Adults

Depression-Adult

Supplemental Figure 11: Anxiety and depression over time. The T score for anxiety (A) or depression (B) reported by participants with rare tumors (y-axis) is graphed against the days since the participants initial diagnosis (i.e. how long they have lived with a tumor diagnosis) (x-axis). CS levels of anxiety and depression are indicated by the blue box. Anxiety and depression rates trend lower as participants are further from the time of initial diagnosis.
