

QuPath open-source morphometric analysis software was used to quantify CXCL9 signal. As shown in the following Figure, compared with paracancerous tissues, the expression level of CXCL9 was significantly increased in cancerous tissues ($P < 0.05$).

