

Fig. S5. Major histocompatibility complex (MHC) haplotype did not result in differential graft survival. There were no differences in renal allograft survival based on the degree of MHC disparity (haplotype versus full mismatch) in Group B and C recipients.