Figure S15. Word clouds of words that were manually extracted from comments, grouped by olfactory dysfunction, where the size of the word represents its frequency. The comments are smell-related self-reports from a web-based survey on COVID-19 that was administered globally between September and November in the fall of 2020.

