SDC 1. Selected examples of reconciled translation changes from the backward translation

Type of rewording	English version	Forward translation into German	Backward translation	Reason for change	Finalized translation
Meaning and Cultural Accuracy	Do moderate exercise (eg, go for a brisk walk)?	Moderaten Sport zu betreiben (z.B. zügig spazieren zu gehen)?	To engage in moderate sports activities (eg, to go for a brisk walk)?	The word "exercise" was translated into "Sport", which connotes sport activities, rather than exercise.	Sich intensiv körperlich zu betätigen (z. B. laufen, radfahren)?
Meaning and Cultural Accuracy	Upset?	Verärgert?	Angry?	Upset can have different meanings in German depending on what is meant.	Aufgebracht?
Meaning and Cultural Accuracy	I felt self-conscious about my lower limb around other people.	Ich fühlte mich wegen meiner unteren Gliedmaße vor anderen Menschen unsicher.	l felt insecure in front of other people because of my lower limb.	Self-consciousness is more about being aware of the limb than insecurity is.	Ich fühlte mich wegen meiner unteren Gliedmaße gehemmt vor anderen Menschen
From yes/no item to work with response options	Had to reduce the amount of work you do in a day.	Mussten sie die Menge an Arbeit welche sie an einem Tag durchführen reduzieren?	Did you have to reduce the amount of work you do in a day?	Should not be a stand-alone question where the answer is yes/no. It should connect to the stem question of "How strongly do you agree that you?"	Die Menge der Arbeit, die Sie an einem Tag erledigen, reduzieren mussten?
Include parts that were missing	Looked after your lower limb carefully?	Sich um ihre untere Gliedmaße gekümmert hat?	Took care of your lower limb?	Missing the idea of "carefully."	Sich sorgfältig um Ihre unteren Gliedmaßen gekümmert hat?
