

Supplementary Figure 5. Respondent beliefs regarding importance to know about sexual orientation and gender identity of their patients

S5A - Sexual orientation subgroups of respondents who think that it is important to know the sexual orientation of patients to better treat them

S5B - Sexual orientation subgroups of respondents who think that it is important to know the gender identity of patients to treat them

S5C - Sexual orientation subgroups of respondents who think it is important to know the sex at birth of a patient to treat them

