

Figure S1. One-step growth curve for phage ZC01 showing a latent period of ~100min. A plateau is reached at ~120min and used to calculate the burst size of 87 phage particles per infected cell. Bars indicate mean \pm standard deviation of three independent experiments. The curve was performed using P. aeruginosa PA14 as host.