

Single mutants

This figure shows a superimposition of the wild-type closed form and the final structure obtained from the F214S simulation. The lid residues are highlighted.

