

Figure S2

Global P values from testing the proportional hazards assumption for all the survival-related genes.

Only two out of 165 tests obtained global $P < 0.05$, indicating that the proportional hazards models are statistically warranted for the survival analyses.

