

Supplemental Figure 1. UBCs are intrinsically firing in various extracellular calcium concentrations.

Whole cell recordings from a UBC bathed in extracellular solutions containing 1.2, 1.5 and 2 mM calcium. Increasing the extracellular calcium concentration did not influence the ability of UBCs to fire spontaneously.