

Reaction velocity is plotted against ketoisocaproate concentration. The data were fitted into a non-linear regression, which allows the calculation of the above mentioned V_{\max} and K_m values.