

Supplementary Information

Figure 1: Frequency of men and women by HDL allele count, with box-plots of the distribution of HDL serum levels. Dotted lines indicates recommended levels, with less than 40mg/dl being a risk factor for CAD and greater than 60mg/dl being protective.

