

Figure S8. Two of the down-regulated genes have very long half-lives.

mRNA half-lives of two genes that are down-regulated were assayed by following the decay of the mRNA after inhibition of transcription by Actinomycin D with or without induction of dhh1 E182Q overexpression for 12 hours. Both half-lives were too long to be determined with any confidence using this method.