

Figure S4. Testing of population structure using principal components analysis (PCA), comparing participants in Swedish (SWE) and Danish (DK) parts of the Scandinavian lymphoma etiology study and Swedish control subjects from the Eira study (EIRA) in the genome-wide association study (Stage 1) cohort on the first three dimensions.

