

Mouse IgG

Anti-Nischarin antibody

Supplementary Figure 8: Optimization of Nischarin staining on breast tissues. As described in methods, normal breast sections were stained with either mouse IgG (left panel) or a mouse monoclonal anti-nischarin antibody (right panel) and images were captured on a simple microscope.