

Supporting Information

Investigating the Antimalarial Action of 1,2,4-Trioxolanes with Fluorescent Chemical Probes

Carmony L. Hartwig^{†,◇}, Erica M.W. Lauterwasser[‡], Sumit S. Mahajan[‡], Jonathan M. Hoke[†], Roland A. Cooper^{†,§}, and Adam R. Renslo^{‡}

[†] Department of Biological Sciences, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA.

[◇] Malaria Research and Reference Reagent Resource Center (MR4), American Type Culture Collection, Manassas, VA.

[‡] The Small Molecule Discovery Center and Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, University of California, San Francisco, CA.

[§] Department of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, Dominican University of California, San Rafael, CA.

*To whom correspondence should be addressed. RAC: Phone: (415) 482-1887. Fax: (415) 482-1972. E-mail: roland.cooper@dominican.edu. ARR: Phone: (415) 514-9698; fax: (415) 514-4507; E-mail: adam.renslo@ucsf.edu.

Contents

S-3. ^1H NMR spectra of final compounds 5-8 tested in parasites.

