Figure S1. Schematic design of a cross-pollination plot. In the centre a 1 m^2 quadratic subplot of GM wheat was sown as a pollen source. In the eastern and western direction corresponding non-GM plants were sown as pollen recipients into distance subplots (0.5 x 1 m). The lightly shaded distance subplots were harvested after seed maturation.