

Figure S6. Syngenic BNL hepatoma cells were used as a control for CTL specificity. Mouse splenocytes were prepared from the mice bearing ML-1_{4a} or ARKD tumors. They were stimulated with mitomycin C-treated respective tumor cells for 5 days. The stimulated splenocytes were recovered and incubated with fresh BNL cells for 4 h at the indicated E/T ratios. CTL activity was determined by lactate dehydrogenase release assays.