

Figure S2. Voriconazole reduces cell elongation. Zinnia (A and B) and cress (C and D) plants were grown on control media or on plates supplemented with the indicated concentration of voriconazole for 10 and 5 days, respectively. Pictures of epidermal hypocotyl cells were taken by electron microscopy. The bar represents 50 μm . All pictures were taken with the same magnification.