Figure S2. Workflow scheme for preparation of vessel maps and voxel classification according to intersection of vascular cross-sections with Cartesian planes. After classification, input voxels from vessels of different calibers were analyzed directly or following skeletonization.