

Additional file 4- split-marker gene replacement strategy.

In the first round of PCR reactions, the flanking regions are amplified; in the second round, they are each fused to part of the hygromycin resistance cassette (HYG). For primer sequences see Additional File 14; the strategy and diagram are adapted from [46].

