Figure S6. A cluster heatmap showing the clustering patterns of lignocellulose-degrading communities based on GH composition (the relative abundance of individual GHs in total GHs, based on gene counts). Only the GHs with the relative abundance ≥2% in any one of these microbiomes were shown in this heatmap.