

SUPPLEMENTARY FIG. S2. Delipidation using activated charcoal significantly reduces the levels of bioactive lipids. Bar graphs showing a significantly lower level of sphingosine-1 phosphate (S1P) in plasma after delipidation with activated charcoal (* $P < 0.05$  as compared with controls).