

Figure E3. Calibration plots showing mean risk of critical illness across deciles of predicted risk before and after adding a biomarker to the clinical model. Black circles correspond to mean expected risk, and grey circles to observed risk. Error bars are 95% confidence intervals derived from bootstrapping.

