

Figure

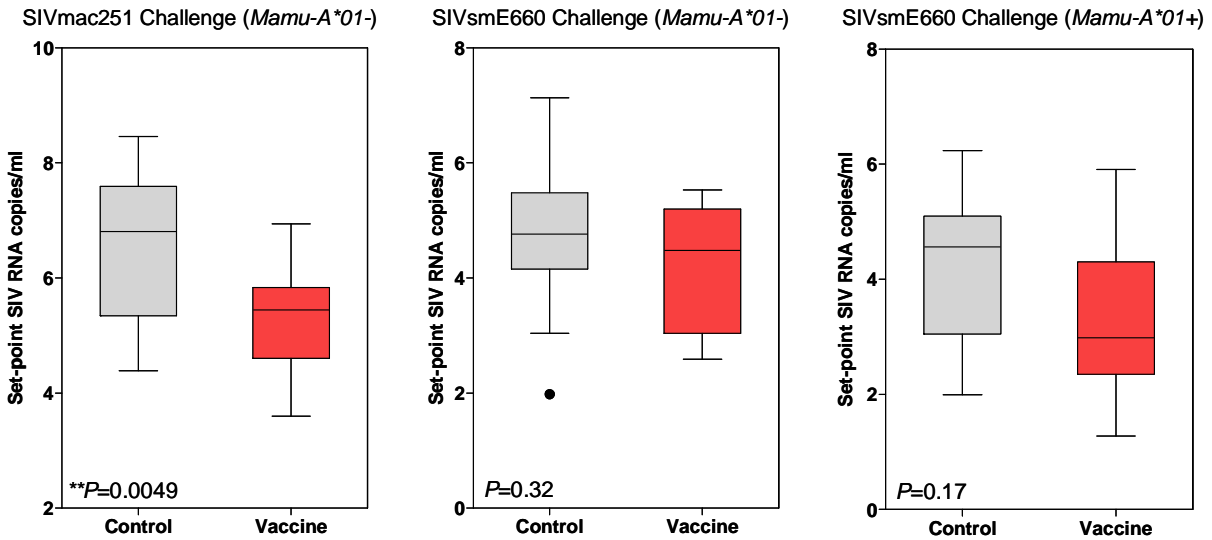

Figure S1. Set-point plasma virus RNA levels following infection after repeated intrarectal challenge. Set-point plasma virus RNA levels were assessed on day 56 following peak viremia. Results of three parallel studies as described in the legend of Fig.1 are shown. The differences between 2 groups of monkeys in set-point plasma virus RNA levels were analyzed by the nonparametric Mann-Whitney test.