

Figure1: Steam distillation apparatus; Vapors are formed by heating the water in the first round-bottomed flask, Steam produced are drawn into the glass tube, then leads the hydrocyanic acid released by maceration, in the second round-bottomed flask, vapors of HCN are condensed and trapped in silver nitrate.

and trapped in silver nitrate.