

Supplementary Figure 1: Histograms of contig coverage at 100X. The contig coverage is defined as the average depth at each position in a given contig. We depict histograms for different ranges of contig length (CL = Contig Length). Contigs with an average coverage out of the interval [20, 120] are excluded. The largest contigs are mostly homozygous while smaller contigs are predominantly heterozygous.