

Supplemental Figure 3. The distributions of changes in influence score among the sets of most influential genes (Table 1) at each of three treatment time-points, are statistically significantly different from the distributions of changes in influence scores from equally sized gene sets chosen at random from the same networks. For each comparison, $p < .001$ as determined by Student's t-test.